Power Point: Keep Cursor Visible

Problem: When I am giving a Power Point presentation, my nice big red cursor arrow keeps disappearing and I have to keep it moving to have it remain visible. This becomes as annoying to the audience as when shaky hands used the laser pointer.

Solution: Follow these few easy steps:

1. Start your Power Point show as you usually do
2. Right click anywhere on the slide
3. Select Pointer Options from the menu that appears
4. Next select Arrow Options
5. Finally choose Visible

Your cursor will remain visible until you close your show. Unfortunately the setup is not sticky, i.e., you must do it each time you start a new show.
